Collection Development Policy

Statement of Mission regarding the Collection

The Edmeston Free Library's mission is to connect our community with resources that educate, enrich, and engage.

The Board of Trustees and staff of the Library affirm the following objectives:

- to provide a variety of materials and programming for informational, educational, recreational, and cultural needs, and to provide qualified staff to give guidance in the use of these materials
- to provide equal access for all people
- to inform the public of library resources and services
- to support intellectual freedom
- to provide materials and programming to patrons of all ages to encourage and promote continued use of the library
- to purchase current materials proportionate to levels of demand and use, taking care to anticipate and respond to indications of significant new needs
- to keep abreast of technological changes which affect the community
- to be aware of the resources available in surrounding libraries to avoid duplication of resources while ensuring wide coverage of subjects

The Library adheres to the principles of the Library Bill of Rights, the Freedom to View, and the Freedom to Read statements adopted by the American Library Association. In a free society, information on different points of view should be readily available to allow individuals to decide which ideas are meaningful to them. The Library is the institution that provides free access to these ideas. The Library, consequently, has the responsibility for selecting materials that reflect a wide variety of ideas and may contain controversial points of view. Since the library has a responsibility to protect the rights of all users, it does not limit the use of its collection.

Although Library Staff may offer guidance in selection, monitoring the reading, listening, and viewing choices of children is the responsibility of their parents or legal guardians. The needs, interests, and points of view of the Library's community range over the spectrum of all subjects inherent to our contemporary society. The Library has a responsibility to provide a diversity of materials in both print and non-print forms. Materials are selected to reflect changes in educational, cultural, and intellectual ideas and the impact of new technology within the limitations of budget and space.

Materials Selection

Selection is a discerning and interpretive process, involving a general knowledge of the subject and recognition of the needs of the community. Materials are judged on the basis of the content and professional reviews. Purchase suggestions from patrons are very welcome and indeed are encouraged and provide Librarians with useful information about interests or needs of the community. Patron suggestions will be governed by this Collection Policy in making additions to or deleting items from the collection.

Criteria for Selection

To build a diversified collection that supports the library's mission, the following criteria are used. These criteria apply to purchased and donated materials.

- Availability and suitability of format
- Suitability of subject, style, and level for the intended audience
- Critics', patrons', and staff's reviews
- Reputation of the publisher or producer; significance of the author, composer, filmmaker, etc.
- Timeliness or permanence of the material
- Quality of writing, design, illustrations, or production
- Relevance to community needs
- Potential and/or known demand for the material
- Relative importance in comparison with existing materials in the collection on the same subject
- Price, in relation to total budget

Weeding

Weeding of the collection is performed in order to keep the collection responsive to patrons' needs, to insure its vitality and usefulness to the community, and to make room for newer materials. Weeding identifies lost or damaged items, ephemeral materials that are no longer used and out-of-date materials. Weeding also helps evaluate the collection by identifying areas or titles where additional materials are needed, older editions need to be updated, and subjects, titles, or authors that are no longer of interest to the community. As materials become worn, dated, damaged or lost, replacement will be determined by the appropriate staff members, who will determine whether or not:

- The item is still available and can be replaced
- Another item or format might better serve the same purpose
- There remains sufficient need to replace that item
- Updated, newer, or revised materials better replace a given item
- The item has historical value

Gifts and Donations

The library welcomes gifts from individuals and groups. The library, however, reserves the right to make the final selection for any materials that will be added to the collection. The library also reserves the right to withdraw materials from the collection when they are no longer useful or appropriate under the collection policy. Librarians will not give appraisals of gifts and donations for tax purposes. Any items that are in good condition but are not chosen to be added to our collection may be donated to annual book sales to help support the library.

Evaluation of the Collection

Continuous evaluation of the collection is necessary in order to ensure that the library fulfills its mission to provide materials which meet patrons' interests and needs. Circulation records and observation is used to determine how the collection is being used and how it should change to answer patron usage. Patron input and community and usage surveys may also be used in evaluating the collection.

Reconsideration of Library Materials

A singular obligation of the Library is to reflect differing points of view within its collection. The Library does not endorse particular beliefs or views, nor does the selection of an item express or imply endorsements of the viewpoint of the author.

Library materials will not be marked or identified to show approval or disapproval of the contents, nor will items be sequestered except for the purpose of protecting them from theft or damage.

Comments from members of the community about the collection or individual items in the collection frequently provide librarians with useful information about interest or needs that may not be adequately met by the collection. The Library welcomes expression of opinion by patrons, but will be governed by the following procedures before removing items from the collection:

If a patron objects to the Library's ownership of a particular item or items, the Library will be governed by the guidelines set forth in the American Library Association's "Challenged Materials: An Interpretation of the Library Bill of Rights."

- * The challenger will be offered the opportunity to complete a "Patron's Request for Reconsideration of Library Material" Form.
- * The request will be reviewed by the Director and a team of at least two other patrons and a recommendation will be formulated. The challenger will be notified in writing of the recommendation within 14 days and a copy will be given to the Board of Trustees.
- * If the challenger is not satisfied with the recommendation, a written appeal must be made to the Board of Trustees within 30 days. The appeal will be added to the agenda of the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board of Trustees.
- * A final determination will be made in writing to the challenger within 30 days. The challenged material will remain in the collection until determination is made. Reconsideration of the item for substantially similar concerns will not be entertained for a period of five years.

Patron Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials forms are available at the Circulation Desk upon request. All sections must be completed before it may be submitted for review.
